

Poetry Reading

Sunday May 21, 2017 2 PM

2020 Main St.
Cross Plains, WI

Guy Thorvaldsen's poetry has appeared in Alembic, Alligator Juniper, The Aureorean, Forge, Gulfstream, Perfume River Poetry Review, Zone 3, Poet Lore and Verse Wisconsin. His first book of poetry Going to Miss Myself When I'm Gone comes out this fall. Guy teaches writing at Madison College. He is also a journeyman carpenter, husband, father, and contributing poet/essayist for public radio.

Author of five books of poetry and a recipient of an Outstanding Achievement Award from the Wisconsin Library Association, Shoshauna Shy's poems have been published in The Seattle Review, Cimarron Review, The Briar Cliff Review, Rattle, Poetry Northwest and by nearly 200 other journals and presses. One of her poems was selected for the Poetry 180 Library of Congress program launched by Billy Collins, and she was a finalist for the Tom Howard/Margaret Reid poetry prize sponsored by Winning Writers in 2015. Shoshauna works for the Wisconsin Humanities Council and helped to create, coordinate and facilitate poetry programs for the annual Wisconsin Book Festival in downtown Madison for a decade. She founded the Poetry Jumps Off the Shelf program under the umbrella of Woodrow Hall Editions, and is also a flash fiction author - but that's another story!

